

March News

Welcome to the Valimex March news & produce update. The mighty Jersey Royal Potato has landed along with the first of English Asparagus. Seedlings are growing as we move into Spring, a really exciting time in the culinary calendar. Purple Sprouting Broccoli is now very good and Wild Garlic is in plentiful supply. Potato quality and availability is still a problem which is driving prices higher.

New grower

This month we start with a new grower on the south coast of England called New Forest Fruit. They have been growing Asparagus in The New Forest National Park for several years.

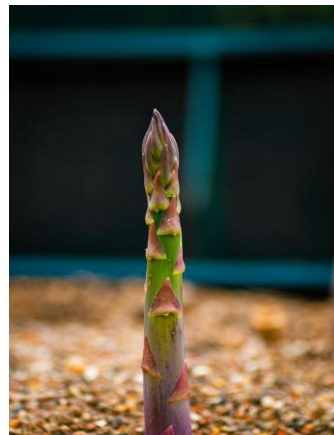

Due to the mild winter and improved farming techniques, the crop can be harvested earlier than other crops, starting in February.

Where the farm is situated in the New Forest gives the farm the added benefit of being sheltered from strong winds from the Isle of Wight, also benefits from increased sunshine and warmer temperatures due to being on the south coast.

Their technical team have also managed to care for the asparagus crop naturally by using microbiology & fungi, which has resulted in the crop being pesticide-free.

Valimex collect daily from the farm giving you Asparagus that is less than 24 hours from the field to your kitchen.
